

Kast silicone Ltd

quality, environmental and safety policy

Kast has set the goal of providing its customers with comprehensive solutions by supplying professional high-quality silicone products. Kast recognizes that such an approach is the key to success and the primary means of acquiring the trust and satisfaction of its customers. In addition, Kast realizes that service includes offering alternative and unique solutions to suit the customers' needs.

Kast is committed to ensuring quality, protecting the environment and maintaining the health and safety of its employees. Our vision is that our products will integrate with the environment and provide healthier and more sustainable solutions.

Kast's policy is to implement and maintain up-to-date, high quality integrated, monitored documentation and to constantly improve management systems in accordance with the ISO 9001:2015 standard.

Kast constantly strives to improve work processes as well as its delivery service, taking into account the demands and expectations of its customers; thereby maintaining its leadership in the field.

The Kast management policy places the human resource at the center of its endeavor. The human resource is a critically important asset. Kast demands a personal commitment from each of its employees. In addition, the company maintains close contact with each employee through its management process, in order to monitor the personal satisfaction level of each employee.

Kast is committed to create a safe, healthy and innovative work environment. Considerable resources are invested in cultivating team spirit and professional training in a safe and comfortable environment.

Kast is committed to ensuring that its quality, environmental and safety policies are available and understood by every employee and is committed to a process of continuously improving and integrating its quality system.

Our management has set goals and objectives in the areas of quality, environmental compliance and safety. Management monitors compliance and updates the goals as necessary.

Yaniv Shnaiberg
CEO

Yariv Nir
Quality Manager